Letter of recommendation

To whom it may concern,

As CEO at Brandweb OÜ, I have had the privilege of hiring and working with Nick Roofthooft for more than 3 years, during which he held several positions. First as a frontend developer and later as a fullstack developer, with me as his direct supervisor.

Nick is the most reliable employee I've ever hired. During his tenure, Nick consistently showed his problem-solving abilities and a positive, grounded attitude. He played a pivotal role in our development team, and quickly established himself as a key member through his dedication and initiative. He has shown a strong work ethic and commitment by always being available, flexible, but most importantly, having a genuine passion for his craft.

In addition to his professional skills, Nick's calm presence and humour has made him well-liked by colleagues and clients. He has displayed a genuine ability to adapt and go out of his comfort zone.

For example, he came in to meet 9 new colleagues days before his contract even began. A clear demonstration of his willingness to go the extra mile from day one. Years later, this same spirit showed when he went networking with clients he had only just met, bonding and making them feel comfortable in his presence.

I am confident that Nick will be an invaluable asset to any company he joins, and most importantly will make meaningful contributions in his new role. I strongly recommend Nick without the slightest reservation and believe that he will meet all expectations.

We would not hesitate to rehire Nick if ever given the chance.
